

From the Registrar...

February 27 is the deadline to register for a comprehensive exam/paper this term. If you are planning to take your comprehensive exam, please note: the written examination will be held during the 10th and 11th teaching weeks of term (March 30 – April 9). The Registrar’s Office will notify you of the date and time of your written exam.

February 27 is the deadline to drop a course, change a course from credit to audit, or reduce the number of credit hours in a variable credit course. No refunds will be granted for these changes.

A reminder that the deadline for applying for Regent College Bursary and Scholarships is Monday, March 2nd. Applications are available on Regent’s website, at the Student Services office or from the Financial Aid Officer.

Message from the Academic Dean to the Regent Community: Students, Staff and Faculty

Re: Two reading weeks each term

Last year Regent initiated an experiment, creating two reading weeks during the regular academic term instead of one. We are now undertaking a review of this new arrangement and your input is needed. Have a voice in our planning the way forward by going to www.regent-college.edu/readingweek by February 20th and give your input. It will take about 30 seconds!

Welcome back from reading week! This is a reminder that spiritual direction is available on Monday mornings in Jennie McLaurin’s office. The invitation remains open to all Regent students with priority given to those who are leaving our community this year. If you are just curious, struggling, or feeling drawn by God towards a deeper relationship, feel free to join me by contacting spiritualdirection@regent-college.edu. Take care, Jill Boyce

All are welcome to the weekly celebration of Anglican Holy Communion on hursday at 1 pm in the small prayer chapel.

ONE AFRICAN VILLAGE ONE WORLD-ONE LIFE

ONE LIFE is a 2000 square foot interactive exhibit that will transport you to the heart of Africa. Through a captivating 20-minute audio tour and powerful imagery, you will experience the impact of HIV and AIDS through the eyes of a child. You will gain a completely new perspective on the greatest humanitarian crisis of our time. The objective of the ONE LIFE is to provide awareness on this deadly pandemic, and to inspire Canadians to move beyond the statistics by hearing the voice of a child in the midst of this struggle. Feb. 19 to March 1, Metropolis at Metrotown, Burnaby

Praise the Lord with Stringed Instruments

1. Sunday, February 22, 7:30 p.m.

Celia Olson IPIAT part 3 “Epiphany: Joy”

2. Saturday, March 28, 7:30 p.m. Celia Olson IPIAT part 4

“Lent: Reflection”

Location of both events: First Christian Reformed Church
2670 Victoria Drive, Vancouver

“Praise the LORD with Stringed Instruments” explores the use of instrumental music in Christian worship, especially in the Protestant context, through a series of three experimental worship services, each with progressively less words. “Praise the LORD with Stringed Instruments” seeks to challenge the nature of participation; the congregation’s involvement will be encouraged in listening and in contemplative prayer. Wordless music will become a means of being silent before God. Each worship service will be followed by a time of coffee discussion. The third worship service will feature chamber music from the late Classical and early Romantic periods, centered on the theme of Epiphany.”

Vigil: February 21 @ 2:00pm

Christ Church Cathedral, 690 Burrard St, Vancouver

The Borealis String Quartet and Christ Church Cathedral Choir present Canadian composer Bruce Ruddell’s powerful work dedicated to the murdered and missing women of the Downtown Eastside of Vancouver and the “Highway of Tears.”

Also on the program is Beethoven’s String Quartet, opus 59/2 in E Minor.

Tickets: $20 or $15 for Students, Seniors and Borealis Subscribers and available for sale from the Cathedral office.
